Honeymoon

Packing Checklist!

Quick Tips

First, here are some quick tips for your packing so that you'll be ready to fill out your checklist on the next page!

1 Skincare

Are you catching a theme so far in my advise? lol Good because I won't stop telling you how important skincare is! After you put all the hard work in getting your skin prepped for the wedding make sure you stay on top of it now! Especially since most honeymoon's involve being out in the sun a ton so make sure to pack your skincare!

2 Preplan

Preplan your outfits so that you don't under pack or overpack! First off, under packing is no fun (been there done that) but going crazy overpacking can be a pain too! My rule of thumb is to always pack one extra outfit JUST in case I need it. I also think of each day and what we have planned then plan an outfit for that day (I do this for most all of my trips because I just like it.) It takes the hassle out of wracking your brain wondering what to each morning and you know you have everything you need!

3 Weather

This one is literally because I messed up on my honeymoon and didn't think about what the weather would be like WHEN we were there and I didn't pack enough warm clothes for chilly nightst. LOL My bad. So learn from me and make sure you check the weather for the location you're going to be honeymooning in & FOR THAT TIME OF YEAR! LOL You're welcome.
